

“GamePlan Financial has taken my business to the next level with their in-house Advanced Markets Team.”

This is MY GamePlan. What's Yours?

Tony – Georgia

“I have been appointed with Allianz Life Insurance of North America since 1999. During that time I've been with several other FMO's that have had a variety of offers. I joined GamePlan in 2006 and have found a permanent home for my life insurance and annuity business. What matters most to me is that GamePlan is highly ethical and they listen.

Not only does GamePlan have a very knowledgeable Sales Coach at my disposal that is an integral part of my team, but they also have an incredible team of in-house Advance Markets Specialists for both annuities and life insurance. These aren't just great sales men pitching ideas on a stage, but they are real people that are available to me whenever I need them and are always just a phone call away. They helped me close an advanced estate planning case that netted my firm a seven figure annuity sale. I would not have been able to do this without them. Additionally, they really understand the regulatory environment and are able to keep me completely informed of any changes and the impact they may have on my business practice. On top of all that GamePlan has great value adds like the MVP Program and marketing reimbursement. The new Producer Partner Program will have an impact on my practice this year as well. It's a unique program based on my production and not some secret profit sharing formula.

I have written business with many different FMO's over the years, but none of them compare to GamePlan. I'm with them because this team will do anything for you. They will help you grow your business because they care, and that's truly a unique value.”
